Víctor Aneiros

Blues with Galician soul

NOW BOOKING FOR 2009

The bluesman Victor Aneiros offers up another take on black music with a Galician soul. Accompanied by an excellent band, he presents his latest work "Heroe Secreto" (Secret Hero). Fusion without prejudice, the threads of tradition and modernity are woven into the backbone of the blues.

"Laments are common all over the world and they establish close relationships between alien cultures", said an African poet, father of the theory of blackness. So blues in Galician makes all the sense in the world. And it seems to make even more sense in the voice and histrionic high-energy guitar that knows no limits on stage of this Galician musician.
